

Lighthouse Simple Transport Process

Transporting boats is not simple, but Lighthouse works to ensure the process from contact to completion feels simple and easy to our customers.

1. Please take the time to read the information on our site pages first to fully understand the process and steps to a successful boat haul. Gather all the pertinent information, call and ask any pertinent questions, then simply fill out the details on our site to complete the quote request form.
2. I will reply promptly with a quote for transport.
3. The next step is a final Agreement. This outlines the important details of your vessel transport including final confirmation of the items presented on the quote request form: Pick-Up location address, Drop-off location, Dimensions of the vessel after preparation for transport, Date move to be commenced, and cost of services.
4. Once you have received your Certificate of Insurance and Contract, send me a 20% deposit and I secure the spot in the schedule. Please note I book on a first come first serve basis upon receipt of a 20% deposit and signed contract. I keep my schedule of booked loads current and communicate with the customers, but I cannot finalize a move on the schedule until a deposit is received and agreement received.
5. After receipt of above, I contact your chosen marinas to introduce myself and ensure they are aware of the timing and agree it works. If there are changes in the schedule between the time of booking and pick-up I will contact both marinas to inform them of the changes if you haven't already.
6. As your pick-up date nears I will again contact the pick-up marina to confirm everything is all-set on their end and ready to go. Typical loading times are 1-1.5 hours for power boats and 3-4 hours for sail boats. Once your boat is loaded and secured, I typically send you a picture and depart. Most boats I transport are oversized loads and limited to daylight hours with few exceptions. You can estimate our travel to 500 – 600 miles per day. Limits such as daylight hours for oversize loads, DOT limits of 11 hours per day driving time, speed limits, weather/traffic condition, non-direct oversize routing requirements all limit travel distances daily.
7. I will contact the drop off marina once underway to confirm we are on their schedule. I generally capture a photo with your boat to send to you along the way with updates via text as to my location to keep you updated if you like. I am also available via phone, text or email as well while underway. Text take longer to reply, as I cannot communicate via text or email while driving.
8. I typically call both you and the destination marina the day before arrival to give an estimated time of arrival. When I arrive at the marina final payment is due before the boat is unloaded from the trailer. I will then unstrap the boat and assist the marina with the unloading. I typically take under 1 hour to remove all the straps and bunks and stow them away to head out to the next boat.
